Ideas for Including Non-Readers

Inductive Bible Study Flash-Card Symbols—Read aloud to your younger children the scripture(s) for each day's study. Cut out colored symbols to represent key words from the scripture(s) being studied. Glue the symbol onto a Popsicle stick or draw it on an index card. When you or your older children read aloud scriptures to younger children, help the non-readers recognize them by holding up the stick or card with the corresponding symbol when they hear the keyword read.

Artwork Options (choose from the following)

- Have younger children draw a picture of what they heard and learned for the scripture of the day. Use clay or playdough to model the story.
- Let the younger child draw the characters. Make paper dolls from their drawings and let them use their paper dolls to retell the story.
- Make a Diorama from a shoebox to tell the story.
- Make a mobile featuring marking symbols with keywords of the scriptures studied.
- Sharing Aloud—Have your child reread the text to you or a member of the family.

Lights, Camera, Action! (choose from the following)

- Have them act out the study or scripture for that day. This can include props and costumes you make. Videotape the production as a play or news broadcast. Use all the children in the production.
- Let them use puppets to retell the story.
- Let the younger child pretend to be the Bible character being studied and let an older child conduct an interview for a pretend radio or television show.

Fun for All (choose from the following)

- Play games that reinforce the facts of the scripture.
- Let older children make up a game for the younger children to play.

Time for Review—Let the younger child ask who, what, when, where, why and how questions of the other members taking part in the study.
